

Day to Day @Versace!

As you maybe aware we have had a little rain of late. The yard and offices at Versace survived well enough through the deluge. We had about 12 inches of water through the sales office and shed and about 2 foot deep on the road. This allowed one particular senior (so called responsible) staff member from the truss plant, to surf the white wash as trucks passed (see Jenni for photo evidence!). Strategies have always been in place should this type of emergency occur and all plans went off like clock work. Stock and equipment largely all saved! The staff all pulled together and showed loyalty and a great Aussie spirit to overcome the nightmare! Well done to all.

Versace has always encouraged staff to be pro-active in acquiring more knowledge and has supported them through training. We would like to extend this support to our clients. Many of our suppliers can run small informal and short product sessions for us here on site. If you have a particular product or certain type of material (e.g. engineered products) that you would like more info on please contact Jenni and have a chat about what's on offer. We can also arrange for tours and brief introduction sessions on material we carry ex-yard.

NEWS ABOUT OUR EMPLOYEES

As last reported the flood of babies has been stemmed..... But for how long said the little birdie!
